

Array of nine pictures of JFdryski mats sq50 series

Below are the photos of nine JFdryski mats. We have marked the style code in the picture for you to remember and compare. With this concentrated display, you can clearly distinguish their appearance differences. Behind this difference, they have been given their special purpose. Nine dry ski mats are used on public ski slopes, professional high-speed slopes, carving slopes, and buffer zones. Departure zone, Big Air's departure zone, down-in run zone, adjustment zone and take-off zone (Kicker), etc. The functional differences of these dry ski mats are tailored to the characteristics of skiing. Beginners are afraid of falling and fast; enthusiasts like the smoothness and stability of the snow surface; professionals pursue ski speed and cutting edge control (grip). In addition to these nine pictures, we also have a Mogul(cat jumping in chinese), a dry ski mat that is not afraid of fire and has a long life. You can check the details of each item on the JFdryski website: <http://www.mushroomdryski.com/>

Next, please take a closer look, you can find the difference between them
